Cassaday is the only one who has been tried, the trial of Burns, Fitzpatrick and Smith having been continue until the December term The defense put three witnesses from Wilmington, Del. to prove that Cassaday was in that city on November 11th. Among these witnesses was Peter Cassaday, a brother of the prisoner, and Mr. John Purcell, a police officer of Wilmington.

Witnesses for the Commonwealth testified that they saw the prisoner in and near Manassas on this date, and the jury elected to accept the testimony of home people. Cassaday was convicted solely upon circumstantial evidence, and it was the general impression that he would be acquitted. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

THE REGULATION OF THE RAILROAD RATES

Townsend Sees the President and Says There Will Be Legislation.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, October 6.—Railroad rate legislation was the topic of a long conference this afternoon between the President and Representative Townsend, of Michigan, one of the authors of the Esch-Townsend bill. Mr. Townsend said afterward that it was his purpose to have his bill in readiness for introduction in the House as soon as Congress convened. He continued:

have his bill in readiness for introduction in the House as soon as Congress convened. He continued:

"After making it perfectly clear that the provisions of the measure apply to private cars, refrigerator cars and terminal charges, it will be my purpose, through the measure to confer upon the Interstate Commerce Commission the power to make its findings in any particular case, effective within a reasonable time after they are announced. Efforts have been made to create the impression that it is the purpose of the advocates of this legislation to give the Interstate Commerce Commission the authority to fix all the rates of a railroad. That is not true. It is intended only that the commission, if complaint shall be made to it that any particular rate is unjust, shall have power after due investigation, to substitute a reasonable rate in case the complaint shall have been shown to be well founded."

"Do you expect that rate legislation will be enacted during the approaching session of Concress?"

"If have no doubt of it," replied Mr. Townsend. "The House has indicated whiere it stands on that proposition and I believe there is a strong working majority in the Senate in favor of such a measure."

PRESIDENT SEEKS DEMOCRATIC AID

Compelled to Have It for Tariff Reduction and, Railroad Rate Regulation.

HIS ACTIONS ARE SIGNIFICANT

Recent Appointment of General Johnston and His Rebuke to Stuart.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, D. C., October 6 .- The action of the President in appointing General Robert D. Johnston, a Democrat. and an old Confederate soldier to the position of receiver of public moneys for the Lafte Office at Montgomery, Ala., is but confirmatory of what has been said in this correspondence recently to the efclearly that he needs the ald of southern Democrats in carrying out his governmental policy. It is also evidence that he is determined to have it.

The signs of the times all indicate that the President is already assured of the support of the senators and members of the House from the South in the strug-gle he is about to inaugurate for the regulation of railway rates, and for the revision of the tariff. It has been clearly demonstrated that the standpatters are in control of the Republidan party. So that, on the two questions which will be paramount at the approaching session of Congress, the President will not be in harmony with the majority of his party, and will be accorded the solid support of the opposing party. This was prophesied in this correspondence last spring. It was shortly prior to that time that the President said to a southern may that the firm would come when the man that the time would come when the people of this country would see that he is a Democrat of the Andrew Jackson type. It would look as though the time were at hand. Two years ago, the Dambard Lawrence at hand. were at hand. Two years ago, the Dimocrats went to most extravagant lengths in abusing the President. There be some who say they have crossed the middle mark in order to accord to the Executive the support to which they think him entitled.

It is not improbable that a Republican President may be the real means of allowing the South to again obtain a voice in the administration of the affairs of the greanmant. of the government.

The intense opposition to Collector Stuart engendered by his almost unexampled partisanry indicated to the President very plainly that he was being defeated in his object in appointing Stuart to the collectorship of Newport News, which was to popularize the Republican party in Virginia. The President has acted very promptly in endeavoring to undo the evil accomplished by Stuart, And Mr. Stuart probably has a headache.

The avowed Republican presidential nominees are looking harder at Cortelyou now than ever before. The positive announcement that Cortelyou would be appointed to the position of Secretary of the treasury on the retirement of Secretary Show the list of February, has caused the belief that Mr. Cortelyou is the administration candidate for Presidential honors. Secretary Root has recently been looked upon as the Presidential honors. Secretary Root has recently been looked upon as the Presidential honors. Shaw is evidently doing more than any of the others to capture the prize. Root is at work in the State Department, and there has not been heard a word from him as to his candidacy. Cortelyou is coming to the front. There looks to be ground for the belief that the President is foreing him there.

At the time of the burglarizing of the Lloyd home articles to the value of $30,000 are said to have been taken.
